Sunset Canada; British Columbia and Beyond. By ARCHIE BELL. (Boston: The Page Company. 1918. Pp. 320. $3.50.)

While this volume devotes considerable space to the settlement and early history of British Columbia, it is valuable rather for its description of modern conditions. Its appeal is to the traveler, sportsman or businessman. The volume is well written and excellently printed, and should take high rank in books of its type. The chapter relating to the Doukhobors deserves special mention.

Recent Discoveries Attributed to Early Man in America. By ALES HRDLICKA. Washington, D. C.: Government Printing Office. 1918. Pp. 67.)

The three recent items treated are the "Ancient Man of Cuzco," Peru; the La Brea skeleton, California, and the "Fossil" Man of Vero, Florida. Addenda treat of the mineralization of bones and artifacts. These latter are reports by Edgar T. Wherry and W. H. Holmes. The valuable little book is Bulletin 66 of the Bureau of American Ethnology. The illustrations include fourteen plates and eight text figures. Copies may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents at twenty cents each.
